EXTRAORDINARY ASSUMPTIONS

An extraordinary assumption is defined as “an assignment-specific assumption as of the effective date regarding uncertain information used in an analysis which, if found to be false, could alter the appraiser’s opinions or conclusions.” ¹

- Regarding the Primrose Site, there is a dirt road that extends from Latigo Canyon Road to the middle of the site where potential development is most feasible. The road provides access to an adjacent single-family residence and also provided access to another home that was historically on the site. The road is narrow (about 15 feet wide).

The portion of the road closest to Latigo Canyon Road is adjacent to a steep slope. We have assumed that road is sufficient to support development of up to three additional homes on the Primrose Site. However, if the City and/or Fire Department require the road to be widened it could be very costly. This could potentially result in development not being financially feasible. For this analysis, we have assumed that the road is a sufficient width to support development of up to three additional homes on the Primrose Site. We have reached out to the City Planning Department, and they have not been able to make a determination of the sufficiency of the road. Similarly, we have not had a response from the fire department.

HYPOTHETICAL CONDITIONS

A hypothetical condition is defined as “a condition, directly related to a specific assignment, which is contrary to what is known by the appraiser to exist on the effective date of the assignment results but is used for the purposes of analysis.”²

It is our understanding that although the vesting differs, the ownership is the same for all the parcels. It is not clear from public records when the subject parcels were originally acquired. CBRE is unaware of any arm's length ownership transfers of the property within three years of the date of appraisal. Further, the property is not reportedly being offered for sale as of the current date. It is our understanding that MRCA is interested in purchasing the subject property. We found a historical listing for the Primrose portion of the subject dated January 21, 2020. The property was listed for sale with a list price of $45,000,000. The listing was removed May 3, 2020. We have made several attempts to contact the listing agent, but have been unable to do so. We have not relied on the historic listing price for the Primrose Site and note that our conclusion of value for the Primrose Site is substantially lower (almost by half). We can not comment on the reason for the difference except a listing is not a closed transaction and the property could have been listed at an artificially high price.

EXPOSURE/MARKETING TIME

Current appraisal guidelines require an estimate of a reasonable time period in which the subject could be brought to market and sold. This reasonable time frame can either be examined historically or prospectively. In a historical analysis, this is referred to as exposure time. Exposure time always precedes the date of value, with the underlying premise being the time a property would have been on the market prior to the date of value, such that it would sell at its appraised value as of the date of value. On a prospective basis, the term marketing time is most often used. The exposure/marketing time is a function of price, time, and use. It is not an isolated estimate of time alone. In consideration of these factors, we have concluded to the following exposure/marketing time:

EXPOSURE/MARKETING TIME
CBRE Exposure Time Estimate	12 - 18 Months
CBRE Marketing Period Estimate	18 - 24 Months

Scope of Work

This Appraisal Report is intended to comply with the reporting requirements set forth under Standards Rule 2 of USPAP and the California Department of General Services. The scope of the assignment relates to the extent and manner in which research is conducted, data is gathered, and analysis is applied.

The subject property is comprised of a total of 13 contiguous parcels with a total site area 276.55 acres. The subject property is comprised of three general areas identified as 1) the Primrose Site, 2) the Rubens Site, and 3) the Archery Site. The Primrose Site is concluded to have more short term development potential than the Rubens and Archery Sites and we have analyzed the Primrose Site independently. The Rubens Site and Archery Site have similar characteristics and are concluded to have a highest and best use of holding for future development. We have analyzed the Rubens Site and the Archery Site together as one holding, independent of the Primrose Site. We have provided the following three valuation scenarios:

1. The value of the Primrose Site;
2. The value of the Rubens and Archery Sites;
3. Bulk sale value of the Primrose, Rubens, and Archery Sites combined.

INTENDED USE OF REPORT

This appraisal is to be used for potential acquisition of the subject and no other use is permitted.

CLIENT

The client is Mountains Recreation and Conservation Authority.

INTENDED USER OF REPORT

The intended user of this report is the Mountains Recreation and Conservation Authority.

Intended users are those who an appraiser intends will use the appraisal or review report. In other words, appraisers acknowledge at the outset of the assignment that they are developing their expert opinions for the use of the intended users they identify. Although the client provides information about the parties who may be intended users, ultimately it is the appraiser who decides who they are. This is an important point to be clear about: The client does not tell the appraiser who the intended users will be. Rather, the client tells the appraiser who the client needs the report to be speaking to, and given that information, the appraiser identifies the intended user or users. It is important to identify intended users because an appraiser's primary responsibility regarding the use of the report's opinions and conclusions is to those users. Intended users are those parties to whom an appraiser is responsible for communicating the findings in a clear and understandable manner. They are the audience.³

PURPOSE OF THE APPRAISAL

The purpose of this appraisal is to estimate the fair market value of the fee simple interest in the subject property as of the effective date of the appraisal, April 28, 2023.

DEFINITION OF VALUE

The definition of fair market value is as follows:

Fair Market Value

"Fair Market Value", as defined pursuant to Section 1263 within Part 3, Title 7 of the California Code of Civil Procedure, entitled: Eminent Domain Law, is as follows:

Fair Market Value. . . . Article 4.

Measure of Compensation for Property Taken.

1263.320 (a) The fair market value of the property taken is the highest price on the date of valuation that would be agreed to by a seller, being willing to sell but under no particular or urgent necessity for so doing, nor obliged to sell, and a buyer, being ready, willing, and able to buy but under no particular necessity for so doing, each dealing with the other with full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available.

(b) The fair market value of property taken for which there is no relevant, comparable market is its value on the date of valuation as determined by any method of valuation that is just and equitable.

BULK SALE

The definition of bulk sale is defined below:

Bulk Sale -The sale of multiple parcels of real estate to one buyer in one transaction. A bulk sale may include dissimilar properties in different locations or a group of lots or units in the same project. Typically, the bulk sale price is less than the sum of the values of the individual parcels.⁴

INTEREST APPRAISED

The value estimated represents Fee Simple Estate as defined below:

Fee Simple Estate - Absolute ownership unencumbered by any other interest or estate, subject only to the limitations imposed by the governmental powers of taxation, eminent domain, police power and escheat.⁵

Type and Extent of Analysis Applied

CBRE, Inc. analyzed the data gathered through the use of appropriate and accepted appraisal methodology to arrive at a probable value indication via each applicable approach to value. The subject is vacant land and the sales comparison approach has been employed for this assignment.

APPRAISAL METHODOLOGY

In appraisal practice, an approach to value is included or omitted based on its applicability to the property type being valued and the quality and quantity of information available. Depending on a specific appraisal assignment, any of the following four methods may be used to determine the market value of the fee simple interest of land:

- Sales Comparison Approach;
- Income Capitalization Procedures;
- Allocation; and
- Extraction.

The following summaries of each method are paraphrased from the text.

The first is the sales comparison approach. This is a process of analyzing sales of similar, recently sold parcels in order to derive an indication of the most probable sales price (or value) of the property being appraised. The reliability of this approach is dependent upon (a) the availability of comparable sales data, (b) the verification of the sales data regarding size, price, terms of sale, etc., (c) the degree of comparability or extent of adjustment necessary for differences between the subject and the comparables, and (d) the absence of nontypical conditions affecting the sales price. This is the primary and most reliable method used to value land (if adequate data exists).

The income capitalization procedures include three methods: land residual technique, ground rent capitalization, and Subdivision Development Analysis. A discussion of each of these three techniques is presented in the following paragraphs.

The land residual method may be used to estimate land value when sales data on similar parcels of vacant land are lacking. This technique is based on the principle of balance and the related concept of contribution, which are concerned with equilibrium among the agents of production--i.e. labor, capital, coordination, and land. The land residual technique can be used to estimate land value when: 1) building value is known or can be accurately estimated, 2) stabilized, annual net operating income to the property is known or estimable, and 3) both building and land capitalization rates can be extracted from the market. Building value can be estimated for new or proposed buildings that represent the highest and best use of the property and have not yet incurred physical deterioration or functional obsolescence.

The subdivision development method is used to value land when subdivision and development represent the highest and best use of the appraised parcel. In this method, an appraiser determines the number and size of lots that can be created from the appraised land physically, legally, and economically. The value of the underlying land is then estimated through a discounted cash flow analysis with revenues based on the achievable sale price of the finished product and expenses based on all costs required to complete and sell the finished product.

The ground rent capitalization procedure is predicated upon the assumption that ground rents can be capitalized at an appropriate rate to indicate the market value of a site. Ground rent is paid for the right to use and occupy the land according to the terms of the ground lease; it corresponds to the value of the landowner's interest in the land. Market-derived capitalization rates are used to convert ground rent into market value. This procedure is useful when an analysis of comparable sales of leased land indicates a range of rents and reasonable support for capitalization rates can be obtained.

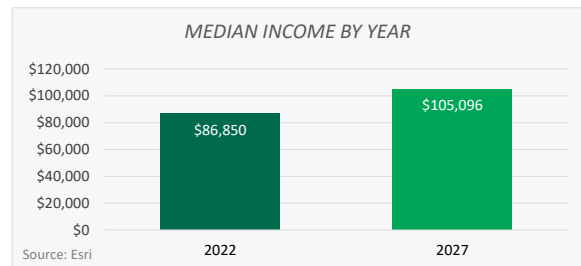

The allocation method is typically used when sales are so rare that the value cannot be estimated by direct comparison. This method is based on the principle of balance and the related concept of contribution, which affirm that there is a normal or typical ratio of land value to property value for specific categories of real estate in specific locations. This ratio is generally more reliable when the subject property includes relatively new improvements. The allocation method does not produce conclusive value indications, but it can be used to establish land value when the number of vacant land sales is inadequate.

The extraction method is a variant of the allocation method in which land value is extracted from the sale price of an improved property by deducting the contribution of the improvements, which is estimated from their depreciated costs. The remaining value represents the value of the land. Value indications derived in this way are generally unpersuasive because the assessment ratios may be unreliable, and the extraction method does not reflect market considerations.

For the purposes of this analysis, we have utilized the sales comparison approach. This approach is applicable to the subject because there is an active market for similar properties, and sufficient data is available. We have not included an income approach as the subject is raw acreage with no history of the current owners having applied for entitlements. As such, the income, allocation, and extraction methods have not been utilized as they are very speculative for a property similar to the subject.

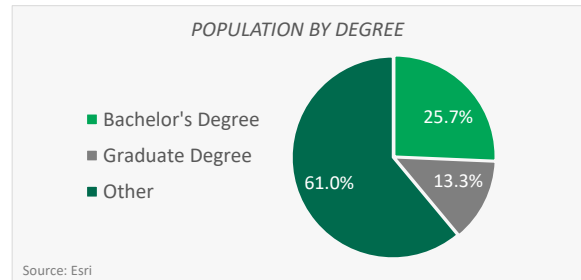

INCOME

The area features an average household income of $126,301 and a median household income of $86,850. Over the next five years, median household income is expected to increase by 21.0%, or $3,649 per annum.

EDUCATION

A total of 39.0% of individuals over the age of 24 have a college degree, with 25.7% holding a bachelor's degree and 13.3% holding a graduate degree.

EMPLOYMENT

The area includes a total of 6,397,424 employees and has a 4.8% unemployment rate. The top three industries within the area are Health Care/Social Assistance, Retail Trade and Prof/Scientific/Tech Services, which represent a combined total of 32% of the population.

Source: ESRI, downloaded on May, 23 2023; BLS.gov dated Feb, 1 2023 (preliminary)

In total, 39% of individuals over the age of 24 have a college degree. The area has an unemployment rate of 4.8%. In summary, the area is forecasted to experience a decrease in population and an increase in household income.

CURRENT ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

At its May 2023 meeting, the Federal Reserve raised the federal funds rate by 25 basis points (bps) to a range of 5.00% to 5.25%, a 16-year high. In determining whether additional tightening is necessary, the Fed will consider the lagged impacts of previous rate hikes, as well as economic and financial market conditions, including banking sector stress. Hiking rates just days after the second largest bank failure in U.S. history shows that the Fed remains focused on reducing inflation even if it inflicts additional economic pain.

Although the economy has cooled, the strong labor market is complicating the Fed's inflation fight. Therefore, CBRE expects that the Fed will remain determined to see inflation fall to a more acceptable level. While financial markets are expecting a rate cut this summer, CBRE anticipates that the Fed will hold rates steady for several months before beginning to reduce them in Q4. Core inflation should ease as the economy and particularly the housing market cool, ending the year at around 4.00%. CBRE expects that the Fed will continue to cut interest rates throughout 2024. CBRE expects that capital markets will lead the commercial real estate recovery, with increased investment volume later this year and a rebound in leasing activity thereafter.

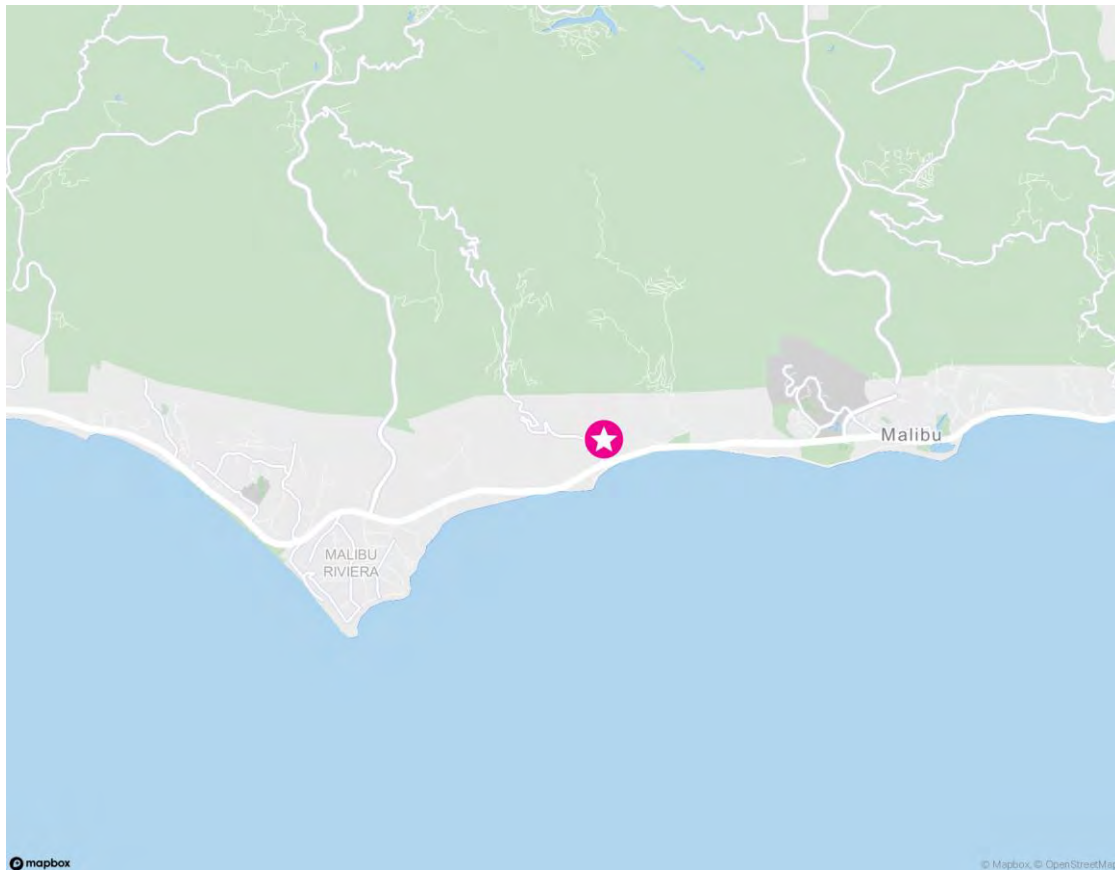

The table below summarizes the CBRE "House View" for the Federal Funds Rate, 10-Year Treasury, and GDP over the next several years. This view is reflective of what market participants are anticipating.

	2023	2024	2025 - 2028
Fed Funds Rate (Q4)	4.5% to 4.75%	2.25% to 2.5%	2.0% to 2.25%
10-Year Treasury (Q4)	3.3%	2.8%	3.0%
GDP (Q4/Q4)	-0.6%	2.1%	2.5%

The CBRE "House View" is for the yield on the 10-year Treasury to approximate 3.3% by Q4 2023, which should aid in the recovery of real estate investment volume. This is consistent with many market participants who anticipate the cost of capital in the future to be lower than current levels.

While opinions vary on future economic issues, the general market consensus at the time of this appraisal is the anticipation of moderating inflation as higher interest rates cool demand. Tighter financial and weaker macroeconomic conditions will weigh on real estate fundamentals, leading to lower real estate investment volume through the balance of 2023. Amid this uncertain and dynamic environment, investment market performance will be uneven across property types.

As shown above, the population within the subject neighborhood has experienced a slight decrease over the past several years. The population is expected to decline more over the next five years. Despite the slight decrease, the demand for existing development is expected to be average to good, as the neighborhood appears to be well established and favorably accepted. Per Capita Income, household income and percentage of college graduates are well above the levels found in the Los Angeles – Long Beach MSA.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, values are expected to be stable or experience slight growth because of the historic desirability of the subject area. In keeping with the principle of conformity, we expect neighborhood land uses to continue to be suburban, similar to the present use. A generally negative population growth rate is expected in the near future. This is a negative indicator for real estate demand. However, the limited supply of available property combined with macroeconomic conditions will continue to bolster the local real estate market. It should be noted that there are concerns in the market due to interest rate increases, inflation, and a possible recession.

Residential Market Analysis

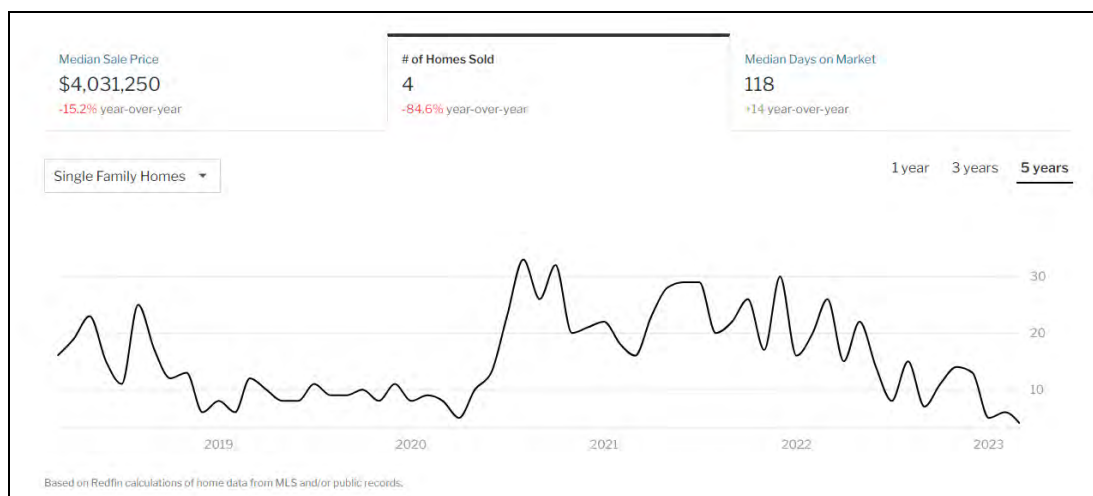

The subject property has residential development potential. Unfortunately, there are no sources that track residential land statistics. As such, we have provided an overview of the improved single family residential market in the subject area recognizing that the market for residential land tends to follow the trends of the improved markets. It is also important to note that the subject market is unique. The area is comprised primarily of upscale single-family homes. Typical drivers of value would be gross living area, number of bedrooms, and number of bathrooms. In the subject market in addition to these items, homes with ocean views command a significant premium.

The charts utilized in this analysis are for single family homes in Malibu and were obtained from Redfin, which compiles data from MLS and public records. The charts that follow show the five-year history for each median sale price, number of homes sold, and median days on market.

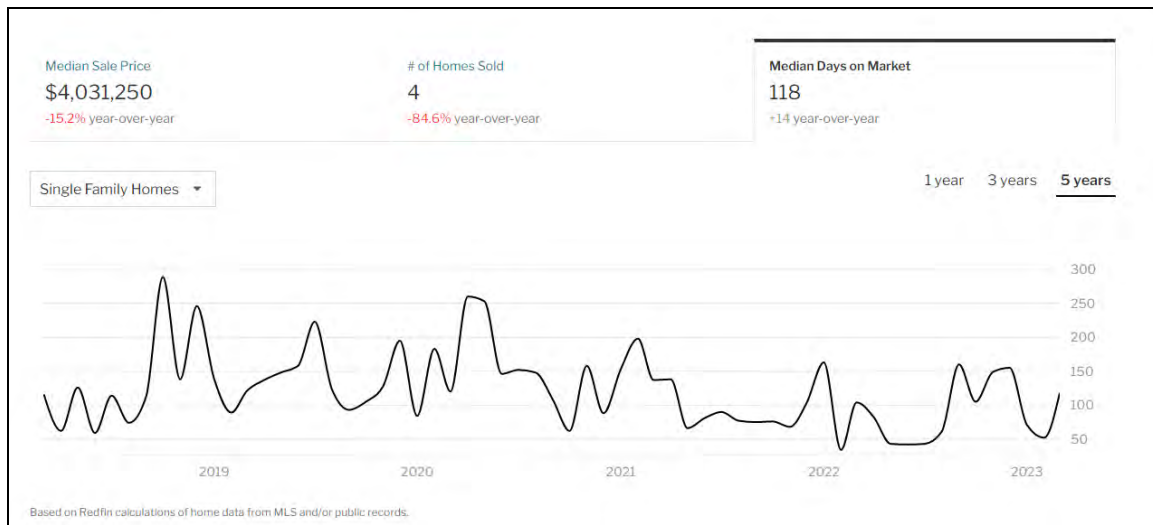

Median Sale Price

Number of Homes Sold

Median Days on Market

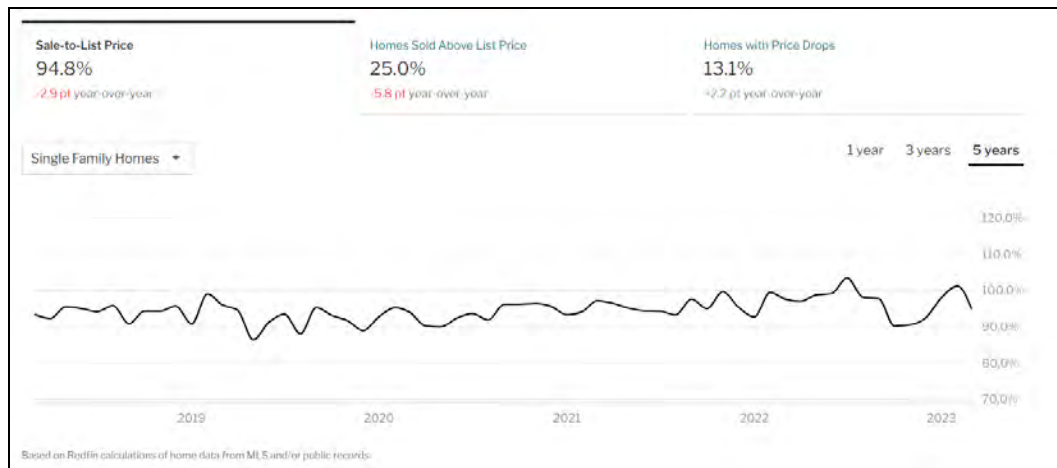

It is important to note that the Malibu residential market has sale prices that vary widely and can be as high as $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, or more. Because of the high price points, there is typically less transactional activity when compared to other nearby cities/neighborhoods. This results in smaller sample sizes and data that can have rather large swings, which is reflected in the charts above.

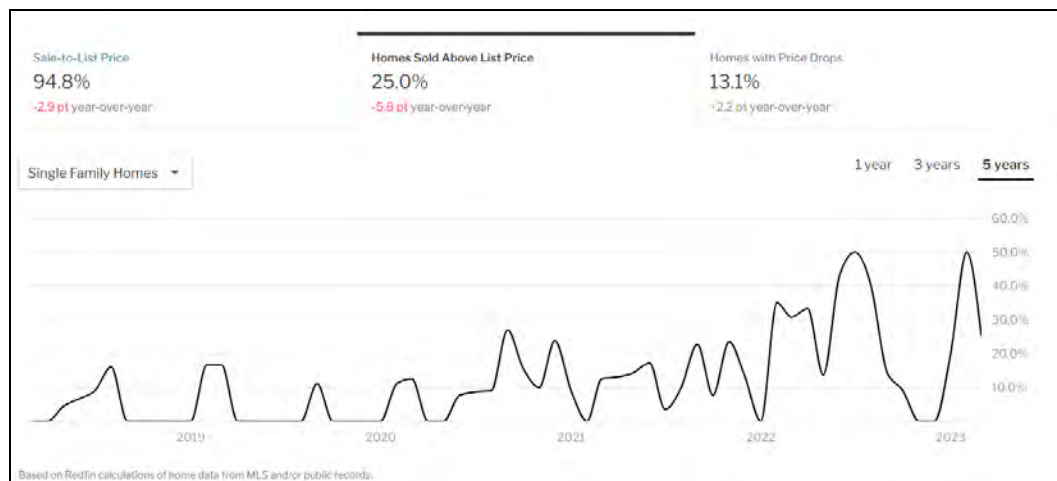

As of March 2023, the median sale price was reported at $4,031,250, which is down 15.2% (year-over-year) from $4,510,000 the year prior. In March 2021 the median sale price was reported at $3,137,500 and in March 2020 the median sale price was reported at $1,992,500. The median days on market was reported at 118, which is an increase of 14 days from a year earlier. The number of homes sold in March 2023 was reported at 4, which is down 84.6% from a year earlier. A decline in median sale price and an increase in days on the market indicate a slowing in the market. The number of homes sold has fluctuated, but overall has trended downward, which also indicates a slowing in the market.

The charts that follow show the sale-to-list price, homes that sold above list price, and homes with price drops in the city of Malibu.

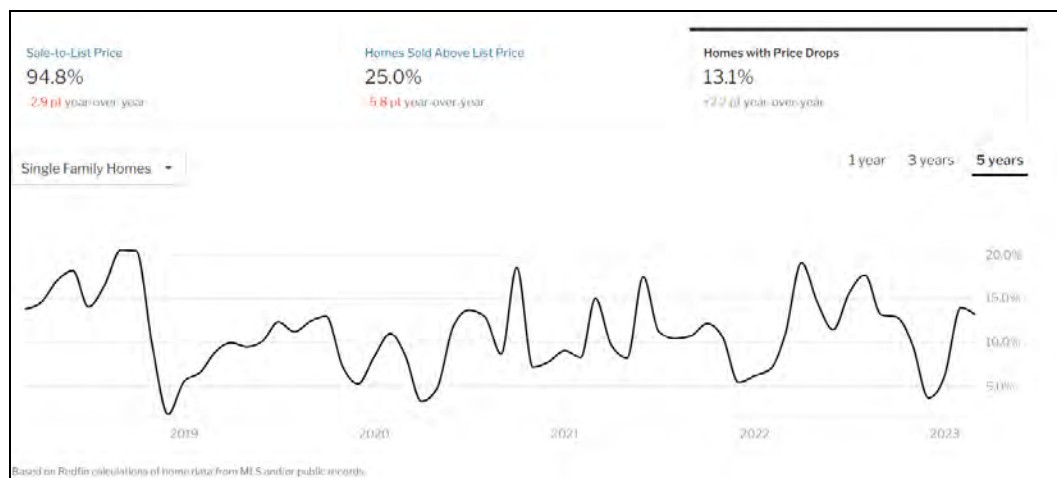

Sale-to-List Price

Homes with Price Drops

As of March 2023, the difference in the sale-to-list price was reported at 94.8%. In other words the actual sale price was 94.8% of the list price. The percentage of homes that sold above list price was reported at 25.0%. When looking at the year-over-year trend (March 2022 to March 2023), both of these figures have declined slightly. The percentage of homes that sold with price drops was reported at 13.1%, which year-over-year is up slightly. While a decline in sale-to-list price, a decline in the percent of homes that sold above list price, and an increase in the number of homes that sold with price drops indicate an overall slowing or softening of the market, these shifts are relatively small.

We have also compiled historical data of transaction activity and the average sale price for single family residences, which is shown in the exhibit below.

HISTORICAL DATA - MALIBU SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL MARKET

Year	No. of Homes Sold	Average Sale Price	Year-Over-Year Change
2014	19	$1,700,000	--
2015	22	$2,000,000	18%
2016	20	$2,560,000	28%
2017	19	$2,675,000	4%
2018	29	$2,750,000	3%
2019	10	$4,950,000	80%
2020	19	$2,200,000	-56%
2021	39	$2,662,500	21%
2022	26	$3,897,500	46%
Average YOY Growth			18%
Median YOY Growth			19%
Source: CoreLogic/DQ News

The data above shows that the Malibu area has had historically low transactional activity, with fluctuations in the average sale prices. With the exception of 2020, values have seen year-over-year increases. The average year-over-growth is 18% and the median year-over-year growth is 19%.

The most recent figures suggest a slowing or softening of the single family residential market in Malibu. However, the area has long been sought after as one of the most prestigious residential communities in the world. Malibu is known to attract foreign buyers, celebrities, and other high net worth individuals. When examining the longer term trends for the market, the market has seen peaks and valleys over the last several years. According to Redfin, within the last two years, the median home price has fluctuated, but has trended up. CoreLogic/DQ News indicates a more substantial increase in average sale price.

Sales of New Construction Homes

Because the majority of the subject property is land with ocean views, we have also looked specifically at the sales activity for new construction homes in Malibu with ocean views. Below is a summary of sales from January 2021 to the present.

Averages	$11,912,500	$14,456,667					121	$1,535	-13%
Compiled by CBRE

Based on this data, the average sale price of new construction homes is $11,912,500, which is significantly higher when compared to the market as whole, while the average days on the market (121 days) is similar to the market as whole. The sale price was on average 13% lower than the listing price. The market reported an average sale price of 5.2% below list price. Based on this data, there appears to be a strong market for newly constructed single family homes in Malibu.

Discussion of Residential Land Market

The market for residential land in Malibu and the surrounding areas is unique. Properties in coastal areas, whether in the City of Malibu or Unincorporated Los Angeles County, are often subject to a lengthy approval process. Additionally, most of the area is subject to very constrained topography making development very costly. The subject property and all of the comparable data in this report are also located within the Coastal Zone and any proposed development requires approval from the Coastal Commission.

We conducted interviews with market participants to understand how the process of obtaining approvals for development impacts values. We interviewed Dougal Murray with Keller Williams, Taylor Schwartz with Agents of LA, Inc., and Gregory Bega with Sotheby's International Realty. All participants interviewed stated that obtaining approvals for development of a single-family home typically takes from one to three years, but can take substantially longer. For smaller sites (less than 10 acres) the process typically costs anywhere from $500,000 to $1,000,000. Mr. Bega obtained City and Coastal Commission Approvals for development of a single-family home on a 22.28-acre site that is currently listed for sale. The process took seven years and had a total cost of approximately $1,500,000. As a result, sites that have City or County and Coastal Commission approvals command a significant premium in the market. All participants interviewed opined that values for land saw significant year-over-year growth (as much as 25% annually) from early 2020 to mid-2022. Mr. Bega and Ms. Shwartz felt that the market has stabilized, but Mr. Murray thinks land values are still increasing slightly.

Based on the interviews discussed above, because of the often lengthy and costly process of obtaining approvals for development, land tends to experience less fluctuations than the improved single-family residential market in the subject market area. The improved single family residential market saw an average of 18% year-over-year growth from 2014 to 2022. Per market participants, land values saw year-over-year increases in value dating back to 2010, but at a significantly lower rate. Mr. Bega and Ms. Swartz opined that increases in land values was likely more in the range of 5% to 8% on average from 2010 to 2020. The onset of the Covid-19 pandemic in early 2020 caused a sharp decline in transaction activity and values, but there was a subsequent increase in demand for land which caused transactional activity to increase and values to start to increase at a higher rate. Land values saw increases more in the range of 10% (or slightly higher) from July 2022 to the present.

CONCLUSION

We recognize that the above analysis focuses primarily on the improved single family residential market. We have included this analysis because trends in land value tend to follow the trends of the improved market. Overall, the above analysis indicates a relatively stable market for single family homes in the subject area. The subject area is a desirable location and does not typically follow the trends of other nearby residential markets. Based on the analysis of the improved residential market and our interviews with market participants, we anticipate that the market for residential land will remain stable or see slight increases in value in the near term. Demand for new homes in the subject market is expected to continue to remain strong.

LOCATION

The subject is centrally located in Malibu on the north side of Pacific Coast Highway and the east and west sides of Latigo Canyon Road. The subject property is located proximate to Latigo Beach and Solstice Canyon.

LAND AREA

The land areas were obtained from the Assessor's Map. The three sites are considered adequate in terms of size and utility.

SHAPE AND FRONTAGE

The sites have an irregular shape, but it is not considered to adversely impact the development potential of the sites.

ACCESS

The Primrose portion of the subject is located on the north side of Pacific Coast Highway which rises steeply to the subject. There is no access from Pacific Coast Highway. Coral Canyon Road and Solstice Canyon Road run along the west and northerly portions of the Primrose Site, but due to steeply sloping upward topography there is no access from these roads. Willmott Lane continues onto the subject and serves as a dirt access road that traverses the site. There is a locked gate at Willmott Lane northeast of Latigo Canyon Road, which is the entrance to the site. The road is narrow (about 15 feet wide) and supports one vehicle. We have assumed that future development of the Primrose Site will not require this road to be widened.

The Archery and Rubens portion of the subject are located about one-half mile north of Pacific Coast Highway. The Rubens site is located on the east side of Latigo Canyon Road and the Archery site has limited frontage along Latigo Canyon Road. The Archery Site is traversed by an access easement in favor of the property owner to the adjacent north. The southeastern part of the Rubens site fronts along the north side of Willmott Lane.

TOPOGRAPHY AND DRAINAGE

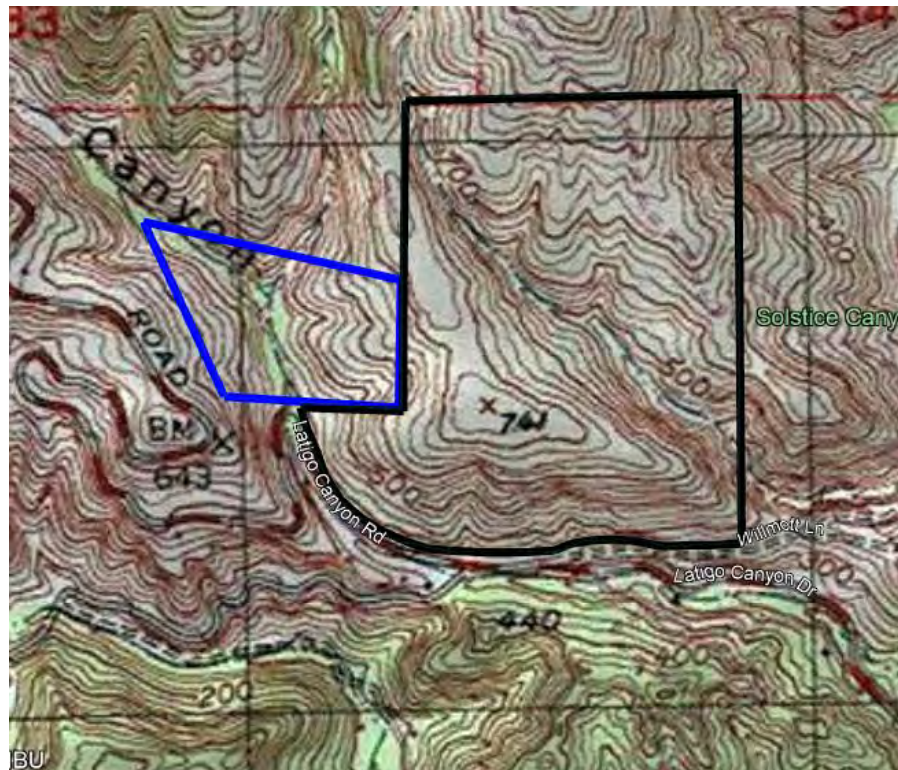

Primrose Site

The Primrose portion of the subject is a bluff with a generally level-to-rolling area in the middle that is surrounded by steeply sloping topography. Please refer to the exhibit that follows, which is a topographic map for the Primrose Site. It is our understanding that the bluff (generally level area in the middle) is not naturally occurring and is the result of past military activity on the site.

Archery and Rubens Sites

The Archery and Rubens sites have topography that varies. These sites are essentially a combination of steeply sloping mountainside, ridgelines, and valleys. There is a natural drainage course that runs through the middle of the Archery site. The Archery site is essentially a canyon with steeply sloping topography on either side of the drainage course. The Rubens site is primarily steeply sloping mountains. Please refer to the exhibit below, which is a topographic map for the Rubens (outlined in black) and Archery (outlined in blue) sites.

The topography of the site is considered to pose challenges to the development of the property. During our inspection of the site, we observed no drainage problems and assume that none exist.

VIEWS

Primrose Site

The Primrose Site has panoramic white water and blue water ocean views.

Archery and Rubens Sites

The Rubens Site has blue water ocean views at the higher elevations. The Archery Site is essentially a canyon and only has blue water ocean views in the westernmost and easternmost parts of the site at the highest elevations. Any development at the lower elevations, on either side of the drainage course would not have ocean views. The best ocean views are on the eastern part of the Rubens Site where development would require a road to be cut in.

UTILITIES

Primrose Site

There is a single-family residence that is essentially surrounded by the Primrose Site. There was also historically a single-family residence on the Primrose Site. As a result, there is water and electricity on the Primrose Site. New development would require a septic system.

Archery and Rubens Sites

There are no utilities on-site. There is electricity and water available adjacent to the sites. A septic system would be required for new development.

SOILS

A soils analysis for the site has not been provided for the preparation of this appraisal. In the absence of a soils report, it is a specific assumption that the site has adequate soils to support the highest and best use.

EASEMENTS AND ENCROACHMENTS

We were provided with Preliminary Title Reports for each of the subject parcels prepared by Chicago Title Company.

Primrose Site

We were provided with five Amended Preliminary Title Reports (one for each parcel). The title reports were prepared January 5, 2023 and amended either January 13 or January 17, 2023. The title reports not various utility easements, which are considered typical. There are several deeds of trust to secure indebtedness. The subject is appraised as free and clear of any existing liens, therefore these are not considered to impact value.

It is our understanding that there is a prescriptive use easement on the Primrose Site that the adjacent homeowner utilizes to access their home. The property owner is aware of this, and any future development of the site would include a recorded access easement benefiting the adjacent owner.

Rubens Site

We were provided with four Amended Preliminary Title Reports (one for each parcel). The title reports were prepared January 5, 2023 and amended January 13, 2023. The title reports note various utility easements, which are considered typical. There are several deeds of trust to secure indebtedness. The subject is appraised as free and clear of any existing liens, therefore these are not considered to impact value.

Archery Site

We were provided with four Amended Preliminary Title Reports (one for each parcel). The title reports were prepared January 5, 2023 and amended either January 13 or January 14, 2023. The title reports note various utility easements, which are considered typical. There are several deeds of trust to secure indebtedness. The subject is appraised as free and clear of any existing liens, therefore these are not considered to impact value.

There is an existing access easement that runs through the middle of the Archery Site. This easement provides access to the property to the adjacent north from Latigo Canyon Road. The easement runs through the middle of the site, adjacent to the parcel lines. The location of the easement is not considered to adversely impact the development potential of the site.

There are no known easements or encroachments impacting the site that are considered to affect its marketability or highest and best use.

COVENANTS, CONDITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS

There are no known covenants, conditions or restrictions impacting the site that are considered to affect the marketability or highest and best use.

ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES

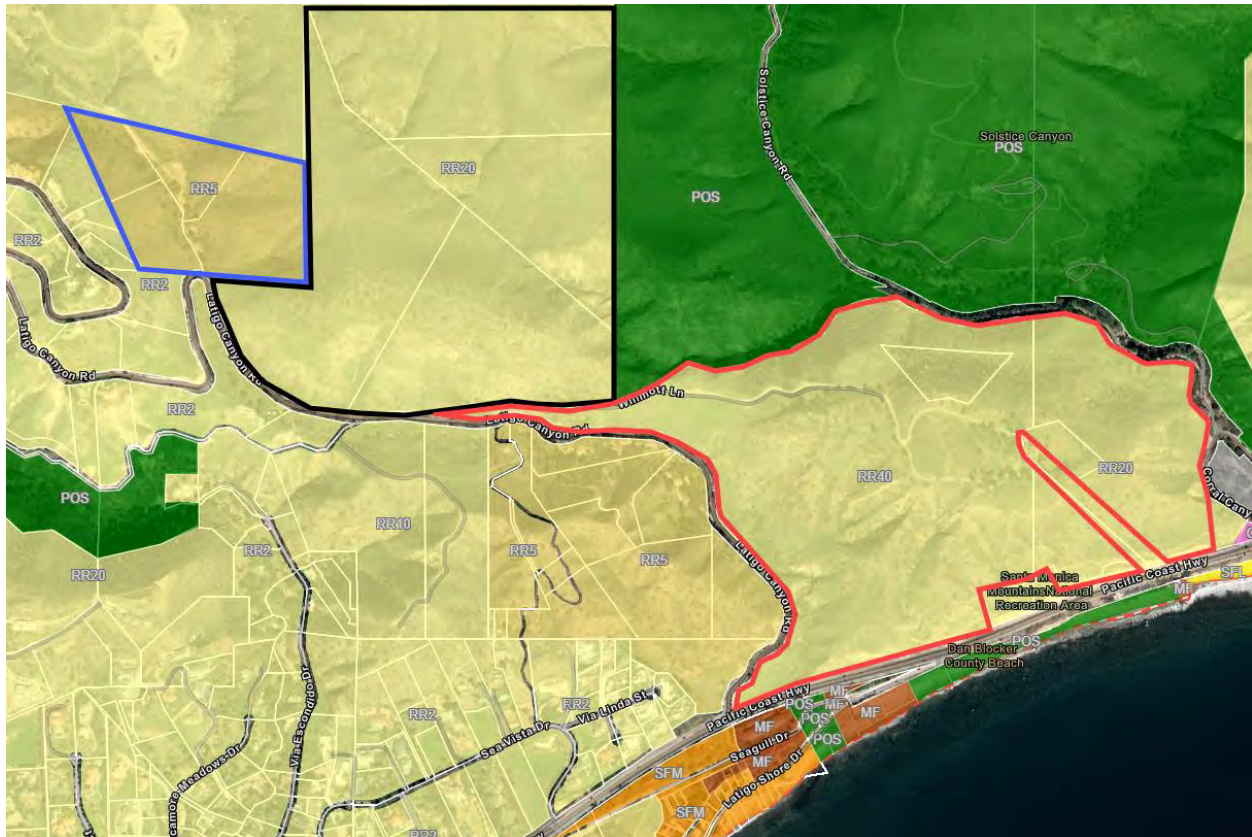

Although CBRE was not provided an Environmental Site Assessment (ESA), a tour of the site did not reveal any obvious issues regarding environmental contamination or adverse conditions.

ZONING

The following chart summarizes the subject's zoning requirements.

Additional information may be obtained from the appropriate governmental authority. For purposes of this appraisal, CBRE has assumed the information obtained is correct.

OTHER LAND USE REGULATIONS

The entire City of Malibu (which includes the subject) is subject to the Coastal Act. Any new proposed development in the city is subject to the requirements California Local Coastal Program. New development in Malibu is often constrained by topography, the lack of or difficulty of providing new infrastructure, the presence of environmentally sensitive habitat areas, visual resources, and hazards. The Coastal Act requires the protection of coastal resources, including public access, land and marine habitat, and scenic and visual quality.

The subject property is also located in an Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area (ESHA). New development within the ESHA requires a biological study to be completed and development requires a review by the City biologist and the Environmental Review Board. These studies have not been undertaken yet.

DEVELOPMENT POTENTIAL

Primrose Site

The Primrose site is comprised of five parcels that range in size from 2.00 to 90.86 acres. About 25% of the site is zoned RR20 and the remainder is zoned RR40. Per zoning, one single family residence is permitted on an existing legal parcel. The Primrose Site essentially wraps around an existing single family residence and there was historically a single family residence on the site. There is water and electricity on the site. The Primrose Site is a bluff with a generally level-to-rolling area in the middle and steeply sloping topography around the perimeters. The site has panoramic whitewater and bluewater ocean views.

The property owner provided a site plan with a conceptual plan for five single family residences. Per the City of Malibu Planning Department, the property owner has not submitted any plans for development to the city or started the entitlement process. The site plan that follows shows a proposed plan for five single family homes. While the subject is comprised of five legal parcels, lot line adjustments would be required to accommodate the proposed development. Additionally, the planning process for sites subject to the Coastal Act is typically lengthy and costly.

Primrose Site Plan

While zoning allows one single family residence per parcel, even on a substandard lot size, the development of five homes on the site would require lot line adjustments. Because lot line adjustments would be required, the parcels would need to conform with zoning. Zoning requires a minimum lot size of 40 acres for the majority of the site. Two of the smaller parcels are zoned RR20, which requires a minimum lot size of 20 acres. The small area with a 20 acre minimum lot size does not result in additional development potential. Based on the site area of 125.63 acres, the site can support three single family homes. The site plan provided shows development areas two and three as being extremely close to each other. The same is true for development sites four and five. Even if somehow the developer could get approvals for five homes, it is unlikely buyers could be found to purchase high end homes that are clustered so tightly. We have concluded a maximum number of three homes is possible.

Rubens and Archery Sites

The Rubens and Archery Sites are comprised of a total of eight parcels that range in size from 5.10 to 38.00 acres. The Rubens parcels are zoned RR20 and the Archery parcels are zoned RR5. Per zoning, one single family residence is permitted per legal lot. However, the Rubens and Archery Sites have significant physical constraints. The topography is steeply sloping and there are bluewater ocean views only at the higher elevations. There are utilities adjacent, but not on site. Further these parcels have limited frontage on Latigo Canyon Road. Any development would require a road/driveway to be cut in.

The property owner has provided a conceptual site plan for the Rubens and Archery Site, which proposes a development comprised of four single family residences. This plan has not been submitted to the City and the entitlement process has not been started for these parcels. Per zoning, the site can be developed with eight single family homes (one per lot). Based on our discussions with the City Planning Department, there are significant topographical and physical constraints on this site. It is not likely that the site can support eight single-family homes. It is much more likely that the owner would be able to obtain approvals for a significantly lower density development. An access road would need to be graded and cut to access the development shown in the exhibit below. This would be quite costly, as the access road shown below does not exist. In our opinion a maximum of four homes could be developed, and it is possible that development could be limited to less than four homes.

Rubens and Archery Site Plan

Below is summary of the extensive process for obtaining a CDP in Malibu.

- Submit CDP application to the Planning Division.
- Courtesy Notice is then mailed to property owners/occupants in the vicinity of the project site.
- Planner completes conformance review, project is routed to internal departments for review, applicants post notice of CDP Application sight at the subject property, and story poles placed onsite when approved by planner.
- If project deemed complete and vetted by Quality Assurance Committee, the project advances to the Local Coastal Program.
- The Local Coastal Program then publishes a Notice of Public Hearing, and requires the property owner to prepare an Environmental (CEQA) document. Once completed, the Planning Commission staff report is prepared.
- Notice of Public Hearing mailer is sent to neighbors and project is scheduled for a hearing before the Planning Commission.

CONCLUSION

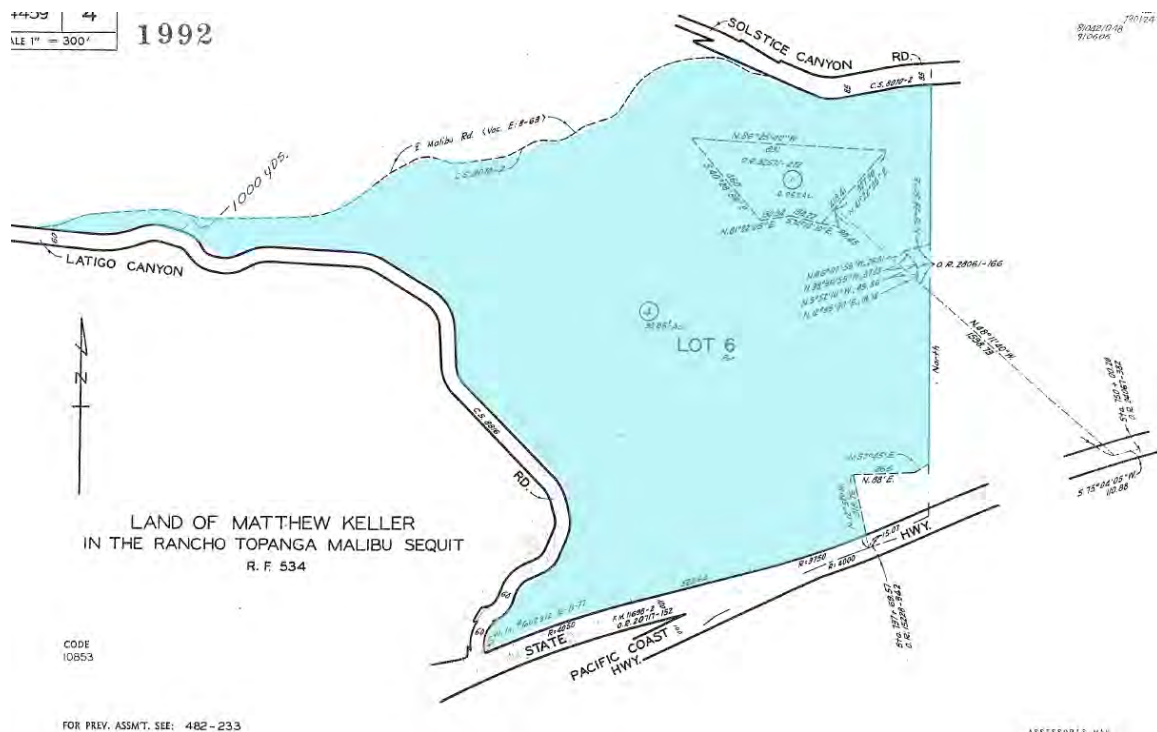

The subject property is comprised of a total of 13 contiguous parcels with a total site area 276.55 acres. The subject property is comprised of three general areas identified as 1) the Primrose Site, 2) the Rubens Site, and 3) the Archery Site. The physical characteristics of the Primrose Site differ from the Rubens and Archery Sites, and we have analyzed it independently. The primary differences that the Primrose Site apart is that there is already access to the site along with utilities. The site had previously been developed with a residence. It is very possible, if not likely, that a buyer would be interested in the Primrose Site, but not the Rubens or Archery Sites.

The Primrose Site appears to be suitable for development with three single residences. The Rubens and Archery Sites have significant constraints, which makes development much more speculative. Per zoning, the site can support the proposed development of four single-family residences. However, development would be costly. There are no utilities on site, the site has constrained topography, and any development would require a road/driveway to be cut in. It is not clear that development of the Rubens and Archery Sites is feasible at the current time. We believe a maximum of four homes could be developed on the combined Rubens and Archery Site, and possibly less.

Tax and Assessment Data

Real estate tax assessments are administered by the Assessor of Los Angeles County and are estimated by jurisdiction on a county basis for the subject. The property is subject to the property tax rules of the State of California, which control the activities and policies of local assessment jurisdictions. These laws were significantly modified on June 7, 1978, when the State's voters passed Proposition 13, adding Article XIII A to the State Constitution.

Proposition 13 abolished the practice of periodic reassessment of properties based on market value appraisals. Instead, real property is subject to reassessment (i.e., revaluation at full or partial current market value) only when changes in ownership or new construction take place. Otherwise, increases in assessed value are limited to a general rate of 2%, plus the rates needed to service any bonded indebtedness. Special assessments can also be added and are often related to the installation of infrastructure. Generally speaking, property taxes in Los Angeles County tend to range from 1.1% to 2.0% of a property's assessed value. Due to California's tax laws, most properties within Los Angeles County have very similar effective tax rates.

Highest and Best Use

In appraisal practice, the concept of highest and best use represents the premise upon which value is based. The four criteria the highest and best use must meet are:

- Legally permissible;
- Physically possible;
- Financially feasible; and
- Maximally productive.

The highest and best use analysis of the subject is discussed below.

Legal Permissibility

Primrose Site

About 25% of the site is zoned RR20 and the remainder is zoned RR40. Two of the smaller parcels are zoned RR20, which requires a minimum lot size of 20 acres. Per zoning, one single family residence is permitted on an existing legal parcel. The property owner provided a site plan with a conceptual plan for five single family residences. Per the City of Malibu Planning Department, the property owner has not submitted any plans for development to the city or started the development process. While zoning allows one single family residence per parcel, even on a substandard lot size, the development of five homes on the site would require lot line adjustments. Because lot line adjustments would be required, the parcels would need to conform with zoning. Zoning requires a minimum lot size of 40 acres and based on the site area of 125.63 acres, the site can support three single family homes.

Rubens and Archery Sites

The Rubens parcels are zoned RR20 and the Archery parcels are zoned RR5. Per zoning, one single family residence is permitted per legal lot. The property owner has provided a conceptual site plan for the Rubens and Archery Sites, which proposes a development comprised of four single family residences. This plan has not been submitted to the City and the entitlement process has not been started for these parcels. Until the property goes through the entitlement process and bids are obtained for putting in a road, it is uncertain how many homes are viable. It is possible that it could be less than four.

Any proposed development of the subject requires approval from both the City of Malibu and the Coastal Commission. An Environmental Impact Report is required. Please refer to the summary in the development potential section of the report which outlines the process for obtaining approvals.

Physical Possibility

Primrose Site

The Primrose site is comprised of five parcels that range in size from 2.00 to 90.86 acres. The Primrose Site essentially wraps around an existing single family residence and there was historically another single family residence on the site. There is water and electricity on the site. The Primrose Site is generally level to rolling area that sits atop a bluff with panoramic whitewater and bluewater ocean views. The property owner provided a conceptual site plan for development of five single family homes; however, based on zoning it is more realistic that the site can physically support three homes.

Rubens and Archery Sites

The Rubens and Archery Sites are comprised of a total of eight parcels that range in size from 5.10 to 38.00 acres. However, the Rubens and Archery Sites have significant physical constraints. The topography is steeply sloping. There are utilities adjacent, but not on site. Further these parcels have limited frontage on Latigo Canyon Road. Any development would require a road/driveway to be cut in. It is unlikely that these sites can accommodate more than a combined total of four homes, if that.

Financial Feasibility

Development in the subject area is difficult. Most of the immediate area has constrained topography and any development requires approvals from the City and the Coastal Commission. As a result, development in general is costly and often takes years to secure approvals. The owner has provided site plans with a proposed development of five single family homes on the Primrose Site and four homes on the Rubens and Archery Sites. These plans have not been submitted to the City of Malibu and the owner has not started the development process for any portion of the subject.

The Primrose Site has frontage along Latigo Canyon Road and Solstice Canyon Road. The site is a bluff with a generally level-to-rolling area in the middle and there is water and electricity on site. The access, utilities, and topography make this a desirable development site.

The Rubens and Archery Sites have constrained sloping topography and limited frontage. There are no utilities on site and any proposed development would likely require a road/driveway to be cut into the site to provide access from Latigo Canyon Road. These are significant physical constraints that pose challenges to development.

The cost of development of Primrose Site would likely be significantly lower than the cost of developing the Rubens and Archery Sites. There is currently demand for single-family residences in the subject market and it is considered financially feasible to develop the Primrose Site with three single family homes. Alternatively, a buyer might be interested on developing the site with one very exclusive home.

Given the physical constraints, it is not clear that development of the Rubens and Archery Sites is financially feasible at the current time. We did note that there is a single-family residence being constructed north of the Archery Site. There was an existing dirt road to the homesite as well as a pad area, which likely reduced construction costs because of pre-existing infrastructure. The road that will need to be cut to the Rubens and Archery site is up a very steep grade and will be costly.

In summary, development of three single-family residences on the Primrose Site is considered to be financially feasible. The Rubens and Archery Sites can potentially support four additional single-family residences; however, it is not considered financially feasible to develop this site at the current time.

Maximum Productivity - Conclusion

The final test of highest and best use of the site as if vacant is that the use be maximally productive, yielding the highest return to the land.

Development of up to three single-family residences on the Primrose Site is likely financially feasible. Development on the Rubens and Archery Site is not likely financially feasible currently. Therefore, the highest and best use of the site, would be to develop the Primrose Site with up to three single-family residences and hold the Rubens and Archery Sites for future development with up to four single-family residences.

Potential Buyer

The likely buyer for the Primrose Site is a developer or possibly an owner/user wishing to develop the site with an exclusive single-family residence/compound. The most likely buyer for the Rubens and Archery Sites is a developer with a long-term hold strategy or a land speculator.

Land Value

The subject property is comprised of three general areas identified as 1) the Primrose Site, 2) the Rubens Site, and 3) the Archery Site. The Primrose Site is considered to have more development potential than the Rubens and Archery Sites. We have analyzed the Primrose Site independently. The Rubens Site and Archery Site have similar characteristics and we have analyzed the Rubens Site and the Archery Site together as one holding, independent of the Primrose Site. As discussed earlier, it is likely that a buyer would be interested in the Primrose Site only, and not the Rubens and Archery Sites. We have provided the following three valuation scenarios:

1. The value of the Primrose Site;
2. The value of the Rubens and Archery Sites;
3. Bulk sale value of the Primrose, Rubens, and Archery Sites combined.

We have utilized the same data to analyze both parts of the subject. The following map and table summarize the comparable data used in the valuation of the subject site. A detailed description of each transaction is included in the addenda.

Our sales research focused on transactions within the following parameters:

- Location: We focused our search within the City of Malibu and the area immediately north of the city limits.
- Size: 20.00 acres and larger. We initially searched for sites that were 50 acres and larger, but limited data was found so we expanded our parameters.
- Use: We focused our search on very low-density residential land.
- Transaction Date: January 2017 to the present. We initially searched for comparables within the last two-years; however, limited data was found, and we expanded our parameters. We also included one comparable from 2011 (Comparable No. 5) and one from 2014 (Comparable 4) due to their larger size and proximity to the subject.

Please note that we conducted extensive research to find the best comparable data available. Unfortunately, due to the limited data available and the unique characteristics of the subject, significant adjustments to the data are required. In the final analysis we have attempted to bracket the value of the subject with the best data available.

In addition to the comparable sales included in our analysis, we did extensive research on current listings in the subject area. We found that many listings have very high list prices and are often on the market in excess of 12 months. Several of the listings we reviewed were also listed on the MLS, removed, and relisted at an even higher asking price. Per our interviews with market participants, this is often used as a strategy to generate interest in a property. From the research conducted, we were not able to draw any meaningful conclusions from the active listings in the subject area.

Adjustment Factors

We have used the same adjustment factors to analyze both portions of the subject property. The differences between the Primrose Site and the Rubens and Archery Sites, is that the Primrose Site has many superior physical characteristics compared to the Rubens and Archery Sites. The sales are compared to the subject and adjusted to account for material differences that affect value. Adjustments are considered for the following factors, in the sequence below.

Actual Sale Price	Accounts for atypical economics of a transaction, such as demolition cost, expenditures by the buyer at time of purchase, or other similar factors. Usually applied directly to sale price on a lump sum basis.

Property Rights Conveyed	Fee simple, leased fee, leasehold, partial interest, etc.
Financing Terms	Seller financing, or assumption of existing financing, at non-market terms.
Conditions of Sale	Extraordinary motivation of buyer or seller, assemblage, forced sale, related-parties transaction.
Market Conditions	Changes in the economic environment over time that affect the appreciation and depreciation of real estate. We have applied an adjustment of 5% annually from January 2011 to July 1, 2022 and 10% annually from July 2022 to the present. This is consistent with the trends discussed in the market analysis section of this report as well as our discussions with market participants. Comparable 4 was subject to an extended escrow. We applied a market conditions adjustment to the date the property entered escrow.
Size/Holding Period	Inverse relationship that often exists between parcel size and unit value. Since the subject is being valued on a price per acre, smaller sites are considered superior and larger sites are considered inferior. This also considers that properties with the potential for only one home likely have a shorter holding period associated with gaining entitlements.
Shape	Primary physical factors with regard to shape that affect the utility of a site for its highest and best use. Please note shape is not a significant driver of value.
Access	Convenience to transportation facilities; ease of site access; visibility from main thoroughfares; traffic counts.
Views	This category takes into consideration views from a site. The Primrose Site has panoramic whitewater and blue water ocean views. The Rubens and Archery Sites have panoramic blue water ocean views only at the highest elevations.
Topography	Primary physical factors with regard to topography that affect the utility of a site for its highest and best use. Comparables with less constrained topography are considered superior. Comparables with more constrained topography are considered inferior.

Location/Gated Access	Market or submarket area influences on sale price; surrounding land use influences. We have also considered whether a site has gated access. Comparables with gated access are considered superior compared to the subject.
Zoning/Density	Government regulations that affect the types and intensities of uses allowable on a site.
Utilities	Considers the proximity and availability of utilities to a site.
Entitlements/Approvals	The specific level of governmental approvals attained pertaining to development of a site. The subject property does not have any entitlements and the owner has not started the development process. Comparables that had begun the planning process prior to the close of sale are considered superior when compared to the subject.

DISCUSSION/ANALYSIS OF LAND SALES – PRIMROSE SITE

Land Sale One

This sale is comprised of two contiguous parcels and is zoned RC-20 which allows for 1 unit per 20 acres. The site is located in a rural mountainous area in proximity to other rural homes, The site has rolling meadows, and distant ocean, mountain, and ridgeline views. At the top of the site is a large level pad site. Plans were available for a new home but given no value. There is a rough graded road to the top of the lot and there are blue water ocean views from the top of the site. This comparable is suitable for one home.

This comparable has inferior access, views, and topography when compared to the subject. This comparable is also inferior with regards to location, zoning/density, access, and utilities. Upward adjustments are warranted for each respective category. This comparable is smaller than the subject and warrants a downward adjustment for size and the shorter holding period for development of a single home. Overall, on a price per acre basis, this comparable is significantly inferior when compared to the subject.

Land Sale Two

The listing broker indicated the property consisted of three parcels (three APNs) with three building pads. Each pad is approximately 10,000 to 12,000 square feet and had driveway access and ocean views. The property is just outside of Malibu City limits and is within Los Angeles County. The northerly portion of the site has an H2 ESHA designation which does permit development. The southerly portion of the site is classified as H1 habitat, which has the highest level of protection. No development is allowed in this area. While the site is comprised of three parcels, given the configuration of the site, it likely can not support development of more than one single family residence. There are blue water ocean views from the site. The property was purchased by a conservation agency.

This comparable is smaller than the subject and warrants a substantial downward adjustment for size and the associated shorter holding period for development with one home. This comparable also has a paved driveway and is considered superior with regards to access. This comparable is considered to have inferior views, inferior zoning/density, and inferior utilities. Upward adjustments are warranted for each respective category. The adjustments for size and access are significant, and is considered to offset the adjustments for the factors of inferiority. Overall, on a price per acre basis, this comparable is similar when compared to the subject.

Land Sale Three

This comparable is the August 2017 sale of the 47-acre single-family residential site located at 3093 Sweetwater Mesa Road in the city of Malibu within the gated Serra Retreat. Comprised of two contiguous parcels, the irregularly shaped site is moderately/steeply sloping with one building pad. Sweetwater Mesa Road traverses the site, which features white water views of the ocean and Malibu Pier. The ocean views east of the site are partially obstructed by an adjacent mountainside. Zoned RR1, rural residential one acre minimum, at the time of sale the property had been mass graded with utilities available. The buyer was in the process of obtaining Coastal Commission approvals during the extended escrow; however, final approvals were not issued until almost four years after this sale closed. Subsequent to the sale, about 75% of the site was encumbered with a conservation easement. Per the listing broker, there was a smaller conservation easement on the site at the time of sale and the buyer was aware that they would likely need to expand the conservation easement to develop a home on the site. This did not impact the sale price, the buyer still viewed the sale a 47 acre residential site. The home is currently under construction.

This comparable is in an area with gated access and it is smaller than the subject. Additionally, the buyer had started the process of the obtaining approvals during the extended escrow. These are all factors of superiority, and downward adjustments are warranted for size, location, and entitlements/approvals. This comparable is inferior (to varying degrees) regarding shape, topography, views, and utilities. The adjustments for the factors of superiority significant, and the adjustments for the factors of inferiority are considered to offset those adjustments only partially. Overall, on a price per acre basis, this comparable is considered superior compared to the subject.

Land Sale Four

This is the sale of two contiguous parcels on the south side of Latigo Canyon Road, adjacent to the subject property. The topography of the site varies, but is primarily sloping mountainous. There are panoramic white water and blue water ocean views at the higher elevations. At the time of sale, the site had an agricultural zoning and subsequently underwent a zone change. This site sold with no entitlements/approvals in place. Utilities are available to the site from Latigo Canyon Road.

This comparable is considered inferior with regard to zoning as it had an agricultural zoning at the time of sale. This comparable also has inferior topography compared to the subject and is inferior with regards to utilities. These categories all warrant upward adjustments. This comparable is smaller than the subject, and warrants a downward adjustment for size. Overall, on a price per acre basis, this comparable is significantly inferior compared to the subject.

Land Sale Five

This is the sale of four contiguous parcels of land north of Pacific Coast Highway. At the time of sale, the site had raw mountainous topography and the access road to the site was dirt and only partially graded. There were no entitlements or approvals in place at the time of sale. The buyer subsequently obtained approvals for development of four single family homes on the site. There are panoramic white water and blue water ocean views from each of the building sites. The development is Carbon Beach Estates and one of the homes has been completed.

This comparable is considered inferior with regards to topography and utilities. These categories warrant upward adjustments. This comparable is slightly smaller than the subject, and warrants a downward adjustment for size. The adjustment for size is not significant. Overall, on a price per acre basis, this comparable is considered inferior compared to the subject.

LAND VALUE CONCLUSION

Based on the preceding analysis, the market data and the subject property may be arrayed as shown below:

LAND VALUE ARRAY
Data No.	Overall Comparisson	Adjstusted Price Per Acre
3	Superior	$217,745
2	Similar	$163,196
	SUBJECT
5	Inferior	$152,607
4	Significantly Inferior	$69,978
1	Significantly Inferior	$48,244
Compiled by CBRE

The preceding analysis indicates a range in value of $48,244 per acre to $217,745 per acre. As Comparables 1 and 4 are significantly inferior, we have placed little emphasis on them. We have bracketed the range of value between Comparable 5, which is inferior at $152,607 per acre and Comparable 3 which is superior at $217,745 per acre. Comparable 2 at $163,196 per acre, is rated as similar. The following table presents our valuation conclusion:

CONCLUDED LAND VALUE - PRIMROSE
$ Per AC		Subject Acs.	Total
$165,000	x	125.63	= $20,728,950
Indicated Value:			$20,728,950
Rounded			$20,730,000
Compiled by CBRE

As discussed in the highest and best use section, the Primrose Site is considered to have development potential for up to three single family homes. The concluded value of $20,730,000 equates to $6,910,000 per lot. On a per lot basis, the primrose site is most similar to Comparable 3, which sold for $7,000,000 per lot (unadjusted).

LAND VALUATION – Rubens and Archery Sites

The Rubens and Archery Sites have a highest and best use of holding for future development with possibly four single-family residences. When compared to the Primrose Site, the Rubens and Archery Sites have more constrained topography, do not have onsite utilities, have inferior accessibility, and have inferior views. As a result of the differing physical characteristics, the Rubens and Archery Sites warrant a lower value indicator than what was concluded to for the Primrose Site.

We have used the same data to analyze the Rubens and Archery Sites, and have not repeated the discussion of the adjustment factors or the discussion of the comparable land sales. However, we have provided a second adjustment grid.

When analyzing the Rubens and Archery Sites, they have inferior utilities, inferior access, and inferior views. The topography of these sites is also more constrained when compared to the Primrose Site. The site area of the Rubens and Archery Sites is slightly larger than the Primrose Site, but the difference is not significant enough that it would be recognized in the market. The size is therefore considered similar to the Primrose Site. The categories where the adjustments will differ in our analysis for the Rubens and Archery Sites are utilities, access, views, and topography. The development costs for the Rubens and Archery Sites are also significantly higher than the Primrose Site, but this is accounted for in the differing adjustments for utilities, access, and topography.

Based on the preceding analysis, the market data and the subject property may be arrayed as shown below:

LAND VALUE ARRAY
Data No.	Overall Comparison	Adjusted Price Per Acre
3	Significantly Superior	$217,745
2	Superior	$163,196
5	Superior	$152,607
	SUBJECT
4	Similar	$69,978
1	Inferior	$48,244
Compiled by CBRE

The preceding analysis indicates a range in value of $48,244 to $217,745 per acre. We have given little consideration to Comparable 3 because it is so significantly superior to the subject. We have bracketed the range of value between Comparable 1, which is inferior at $48,244 and Comparable 5 which is superior at $152,607. Comparable 4 is similar overall at $69,978 per acre. We have placed the most emphasis on Comparable 4. We have concluded well below the mid-point of the bracketed range. The following table presents the valuation conclusion:

CONCLUDED LAND VALUE - RUBENS & ARCHERY
$ Per AC		Subject Acs.	Total
$70,000	x	150.92	= $10,564,400
Indicated Value:			$10,564,400
Rounded			$10,560,000
Compiled by CBRE

As discussed in the highest and best use section, the Rubens and Archery Sites are considered to have development potential for up to four single homes. The concluded value of $10,560,000 which equates to $2,640,000 per lot. On a per lot basis, the Rubens and Archery Sites would be most similar to Comparables 1 and 2, which sold for $1,550,000 and $3,200,000 (unadjusted) per lot, respectively.

VALUE CONCLUSION

In the valuation of the entire site, a single buyer would need to purchase the entire property. Because the subject was valued in components, we must now consider a bulk sale discount to reflect that a single buyer will need to purchase both components of the property. As defined in the Dictionary of Real Estate Appraisal, 6th Edition, a bulk sale is the sale of multiple parcels of real estate to one buyer in one transaction. A bulk sale may include dissimilar properties in different locations or a group of lots or units in the same project. Typically, the bulk sale price is less than the sum of the values of the individual parcels.⁶ In the case of the subject, the land use for both the Primrose and the Archery and Rubens sites is similar, but the timeline for development is different.

Based on our experience, we have seen bulk discounts ranging from 5% to 15%. Given the increased holding costs associated with a single buyer purchasing the entire property, as well as the reduced buyer pool, we feel a 10% discount is appropriate to the entire site. The following represents our final value conclusion for the entire site:

CONCLUDED LAND VALUE
Primrose	$20,730,000
Archery & Rubens	$10,560,000
Indicated Value:	$31,290,000
Less: Bulk Discount (10%)	$3,129,000
Total	$28,161,000
Rounded	$28,160,000
Compiled by CBRE

Reconciliation of Value

As discussed previously, we use only the sales comparison approach in developing an opinion of value for the subject. The income, allocation, and extraction approaches were not utilized. We valued the Primrose site separately from the Rubens and Archery sites as we feel the timeline for development differs, and therefore the highest and best uses differ. After valuing the two respective sites using the sales comparison approach, we applied a bulk sale discount factor to reflect the fact the one buyer will be purchasing both sites.

Based on the foregoing, the market value of the subject has been concluded as follows:

MARKET VALUE CONCLUSION
Appraisal Premise	Interest Appraised	Date of Value	Value Conclusion
Bulk Land Value - Primrose, Rubens, & Archery	Fee Simple Estate	April 28, 2023	$28,160,000

Map & Comments
	The listing broker indicated the property consisted of three parcels (three APNs) with three building pads. Each pad is approximately 10,000 to 12,000 square feet and had driveway access and ocean views. The property is just outside of Malibu City limits and is within Los Angeles County. The northerly portion of the site has an H2 ESHA designation which does permit development. The southerly portion of the site is classified as H1 habitat, which has the highest level of protection. No development is allowed in this area. While the site is comprised of three parcels, given the configuration of the site, it likely can not support development of more than one single family residence. There are blue water ocean views from the site. The property was purchased by a conservation agency.

Map & Comments

This comparable is the August 2017 sale of the 47-acre single-family residential site located at 3093 Sweetwater Mesa Road in the city of Malibu within the gated Serra Retreat. Comprised of two contiguous parcels, the irregularly shaped site is moderately/steeply sloping with one building pad. Sweetwater Mesa Road traverses the site, which features white water views of the ocean and Malibu Pier. The ocean views east of the site are partially obstructed by an adjacent mountainside. Zoned RR1, rural residential one acre minimum, at the time of sale the property had been mass graded with utilities available. The buyer was in the process of obtaining Coastal Commission approvals during the extended escrow; however, final approvals were not issued until almost four years after this sale closed. Subsequent to the sale, about 75% of the site was encumbered with a conservation easement. Per the listing broker, there was a smaller conservation easement on the site at the time of sale and the buyer was aware that they would likely need to expand the conservation easement to develop a home on the site. This did not impact the sale price, the buyer still viewed the sale a 47 acre residential site. The home is currently under construction.

This sale was confirmed with Josh Spiegel, the buyer's agent, by Nicole Galvez on May 12, 2023.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Wire Fraud Alert

This Notice is not intended to provide legal or professional advice. If you have any questions, please consult with a lawyer.

All parties to a real estate transaction are targets for wire fraud and many have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because they simply relied on the wire instructions received via email, without further verification. If funds are to be wired in conjunction with this real estate transaction, we strongly recommend verbal verification of wire instructions through a known, trusted phone number prior to sending funds.

In addition, the following non-exclusive self-protection strategies are recommended to minimize exposure to possible wire fraud.

- NEVER RELY on emails purporting to change wire instructions. Parties to a transaction rarely change wire instructions in the course of a transaction.
- ALWAYS VERIFY wire instructions, specifically the ABA routing number and account number, by calling the party who sent the instructions to you. DO NOT use the phone number provided in the email containing the instructions, use phone numbers you have called before or can otherwise verify. Obtain the phone number of relevant parties to the transaction as soon as an escrow account is opened. DO NOT send an email to verify as the email address may be incorrect or the email may be intercepted by the fraudster.
- USE COMPLEX EMAIL PASSWORDS that employ a combination of mixed case, numbers, and symbols. Make your passwords greater than eight (8) characters. Also, change your password often and do NOT reuse the same password for other online accounts.
- USE MULTI-FACTOR AUTHENTICATION for email accounts. Your email provider or IT staff may have specific instructions on how to implement this feature.

Representative Appraisal Assignments

- Appraisal of 50+ single-family residences (SFRs) impacted by the I-405 Widening Project in Costa Mesa. The acquisitions all involve temporary construction easements (TCEs). This assignment required an analysis of temporary severance damages due to impacts to rear yards as well as a valuation of all site improvements in the TCE areas. Appraisal of 50+ commercial properties impacted by various types of partial acquisitions related to the I-405. Some of the appraisals were extremely complex with significant severance damage studies required.
- Multiple appraisal assignments for LACMTA included:
 - Appraisal of a 1.25-acre parcel improved with a Class A, 12-story, medical office building constructed circa 1962, an adjacent one-story bank building and an attached four-story parking structure known as the Westwood Medical Plaza. It is located along the proposed Purple Line Subway Extension Project Corridor, specifically on the northeast corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Westwood Boulevard in the Westwood neighborhood within the City of Los Angeles. As part of this project, LACMTA is seeking acquire various permanent and temporary property interests, and to relocate existing tenants within the subject property. The purpose of this appraisal was to estimate the fair market value of the property interests (Parts Taken) to be acquired from the Larger Parcel and to make a determination as to the impact of the proposed acquisitions on the Remainder Parcel.
 - Appraisal of Wilshire Federal Building: Appraisal of a deep tunnel easement on the Wilshire frontage of the Federal Building as part of LACMTA's Purple Line extension. Consideration was given to the redevelopment potential of the site and the benefits to the remainder, as well as to the value of the parts taken.
 - Appraisal involving the valuation of partial acquisitions impacting the Westfield Mall in Century City as part of LACMTA's Purple Line extension. This assignment was challenging with respect to valuing the underlying land associated with the larger parcel. The property is unique due to its location and its size. Complexities involved determining the number of trips allocated to the site as this in part drives land value. Again, consideration was given to damages and benefits, as well as to the value of the parts taken.

- Appraisal of numerous surface and subsurface acquisitions were required on the Veteran's Administration property for the construction of a subway station and tunnel easements for LACMTA's Purple Line. Significant research was required relative to the VA specific plan and the highest and best use of the property. Consideration was given to damages and project benefits as well as the value of the parts acquired.
- Appraisal of 50± miles of pipeline easement running through UPRR and BNSF rail corridors in Urban Los Angeles.
- Multiple appraisal assignments for RCTC included:
 - Appraisal of parcels under more than 50 separate ownerships affected by acquisitions and easements for the SR-91 Corridor Improvement Project through the City of Corona. The goal of this project was to prepare an appraisal for acquisition purposes such that the buyer and seller could agree on a purchase price and put the property under contract.

Neighborhood 1 consists of 10.4± acres and was proposed for development with 16 residential units. Neighborhood 3 is 13.7± acres and was proposed for development with 59 residential units. Neighborhoods 1 and 3 were valued separately. The intended users of the report were the California State Coastal Conservancy, City of Fullerton, Wildlife Conservation Board, Rivers and Mountains Conservancy, California Department of Parks and Recreation, California Natural Resources Agency, and the US Fish and Wildlife Service. This report was prepared to Federal Standards in conformance with Yellow Book guidelines and the acquisition was made based on our appraisal.
- Appraisal in Fresno County for the State Department of Water Resources, which included 22 permanent flowage easements and three partial fee acquisitions. Some of the proposed flowage easements overlapped existing road and utility easements which had to be considered. Due to the nature of the flowage easements, substantial severance damages accrued to the remainder parcels which had to be considered. This assignment also included the consideration of orchard and crop values.
- Multiple appraisal assignments for the U.S. Department of the Interior, Appraisal and Valuation Services Office (AVSO) prepared to Federal Standards in accordance with Yellow Book guidelines.
